

Katdemon Ink - General Data Protection Regulation Policy Statement.

Katdemon Ink has been established since 2015 and have over 15 years of experience between our artists and piercer in the tattoo, piercing and body modification industry (including treatments such as laser tattoo reduction).

Based in Cardiff, we offer a broad range of jewellery and services to private individuals in the surrounding areas.

As an essential part of our business, we have to collect and manage customer information.

This is primarily for safety reasons and a requirement of our licenses and to ensure customer consent. In doing so, we observe the UK Data Protection legislation, and are committed to protecting and respecting customers' and non-customers' privacy and rights.

Specifically, we act as a "Data Controller" in respect of the information gathered and processed by us, and act in a fair, transparent and accountable manner.

In order that you are reliably informed about how we operate, we have developed this statement, which describes the ways in which we collect, manage, process, and store information about you, in order to provide you with our high level of customer service. This privacy notice also provides you with information about how you can have control over the use of your data.

This document sets out your rights of privacy under the GDPR [General Data Protection Regulation] after 25 May 2018 and how Katdemon Ink as a company meet the compliancy requirements.

If you have any comments or queries regarding our use of your data, please contact us at: katdemonink@email.co.uk or write to us at:

What information do we collect about you?

Under the new GDPR coming into force at the end of May 2018. We are required by law to document what personal information we keep for all customers, whether they are one off or regular clients.

At the time of first contacting Katdemon Ink via the website or in person via one of our consent forms, we will take your name, contact telephone number, email address and postal address. All information is retained for a period of up to three years from the date of a Katdemon Ink service taking place (such as a tattoo, piercing, jewellery change etc.) after which it will be securely destroyed. You do have the right to see any information we keep and you can request that any data be changed or securely destroyed at any point assuming it complies with insurances, consent and licensing requirements set by Cardiff City Council.

We do not use the information for anything other than to contact you regarding the reasons why you first contacted the company or in the event of a problem with a product sold to you or used on you that has been supplied to us by a 3rd party.

We will not pass your personal information to any third party.

If you opt out of email marketing you will no longer receive company newsletters.

Please also be advised that when you visit our website(s), cookies will be used to collect information about you such as your Internet Protocol (IP) address which connects your computer or mobile device to the Internet, and information about your visit such as the pages you viewed or searched for, pages response times, download errors etc. We do this so that we can measure our website's performance and make improvements in the future.

You can control this by adjusting your cookies settings. We refer you to our Cookies Policy on our website for more information on this.

How will we use the information?

In general terms, we would need to collect information about you so that we can:

- Obtain your written formal consent to undergo a procedure such as a tattoo
- Provide our services and respond to enquiries
- Deliver requested information to you about our additional services
- Ensure the billing of any procured services and obtain payment
- Process and respond to any complaints

The information that we need for these purposes is known as your "personal data".

This includes your name, home address, email address, telephone and other contact numbers and financial information.

We collect this in a number of different ways. For example, you may provide this data to us directly online or over the telephone, or when corresponding with us by letter.

Your rights Under the terms of data protection legislation, you have the following rights as a result of using our service and our website (subject to confidentiality, as mentioned above):

(a) Right to be informed

This privacy notice fulfils our obligation to tell you about the ways in which we use your information as a result of you using our services.(b) Right to access

You have the right to ask us for a copy of any personal data that we hold about you.

This is known as a "Subject Access Request". Except in exceptional circumstances (which we would discuss and agree with you in advance), you can obtain this information at no cost after 25th

May 2018. We will send you a copy of the information within 30 days of your request.

To make Subject Access Request, please email or write to our Data Protection Officer at the details set out above.

(c) Right to rectification

If any of the information that we hold about you is inaccurate, you can contact our

Data

Protection Officer in writing, via letter or email. Before we can do this, it may be necessary for us to investigate this with you and obtain proof of your identity.

(d) Right to be forgotten

From 25 May 2018, you can ask that we erase all personal information that we hold about you. Where it is appropriate that we comply, your request will be fully actioned within 30 days. Please note that there may be very good reasons why we cannot comply, for instance where we need to hold your file of papers electronically after conclusion of your matter for a statutory period e.g. limitation period. For further information please contact our Data Protection Officer, who will be able to help you and advise you on your case.

You have the right to object to:

- The continued use of your data for any purpose listed above for which consent is identified as the lawful basis for processing i.e. you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.
- The continued use of your data for any purpose listed above for which the lawful basis of processing is that it has been deemed legitimate.

(e) Right to restrict processing If you wish us to restrict the use of your data because (i) you think it is inaccurate but this will take time to validate, (ii) you believe our data processing is unlawful but you do not want your data erased, (iii) you want us to retain your data in order to perform subsequent tasks, or (iv) you wish to object to the processing of your data, but we have yet to determine whether this is appropriate, please contact our Data Protection Officer.

(f) Right to data portability If you would like to move, copy or transfer the electronic personal data that we hold about you to another organisation, please contact our Data Protection Officer. (g) Rights related to automated decision-making If you would like to object to automated decision making without any individual involvement, and to the profiling of your data, please contact our Data Protection Officer.

Is the processing of information likely to cause individuals to object or complain?

Katdemon Ink are not aware of any justifiable reasons that would constitute a legitimate reason for objecting or complaining about the way we process or control information.

How long will we retain information for?

Katdemon Ink will typically retain information for a period of up to three years from the conclusion of one off service provision matters, or six years for employment records. This is due to regulatory reasons and limitation periods in respect of any future claims or complaints and to ensure our business records are adequate to maintain the requisite levels of insurance to protect our clients and non-clients.

Overseas transfers None of the information that we collect process or store as a result of our services is transferred outside of the European Union (EU).

Data privacy and security At Katdemon Ink, we maintain a comprehensive data management work programme, which includes processes for ensuring that data protection is a key consideration of all new and existing IT systems that hold personal data. Where any concerns, risks or issues are identified, we conduct relevant impact assessments in order to determine any actions that are necessary to ensure optimum privacy.

We also maintain an active information security work programme which seeks to protect the availability, confidentiality and integrity of all physical and information assets. Specifically, this helps us to:

- Protect against potential breaches of confidentiality;
- Ensure all IT facilities are protected against damage, loss or misuse;
- Increase awareness and understanding of the requirements of information security, and the responsibility of our colleagues to protect the confidentiality and integrity of the information that they handle; and
- Ensure the optimum security of our websites General Questions and comments regarding this Privacy Notice are welcomed, and should be sent to our Data Protection Officer at katdemonink@email.co.uk
